Garrett Campbell-Wilson will have his unique pieces on display in Tsawwassen until the end of the month.

Origins exhibit opens at Tsaw. Arts Centre

Vancouver-born artist Garrett Campbell-Wilson's exhibit, Origins, will have an opening night event next week at the Tsawwassen Arts Centre.

Campbell-Wilson believes in the creative process as a "scientific art form." He calls it the discipline of using tangible material to create unique experiences for the viewer.

"I can express myself in one single beautiful stroke," Campbell-Wilson says on his website. "When I create, I use my ability to capture the essence of the subject's energy using both traditional and unconventional tools."

Campbell-Wilson finds inspiration from African art, ancient cultures, quantum physics and Eastern philosophy.

He's had previous exhibitions at Buschlen Mowatt Galleries and other venues in Canada and the U.S.

He graduated with a bachelor of fine arts degree from the Art Institute of Boston at Lesley University last year.

The opening will be held on Thursday, Aug. 21 from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments and snacks will be available.

The exhibit runs until Aug. 30. For more information visit www.gcamwil-studio.com or call the arts centre at 604-943-9787.
